Relevancy Ranking

1. Match on subject headings from controlled vocabularies
2. Match on article titles
3. Match on author keywords
4. Match on keywords within abstracts
5. Match keywords within full text

Field by Field Searching

Relevancy Ranking

- Exact Matches: Exact matches are favored over partial matches - considering also the field in which those words appear (abstract vs. full text, vs. title, etc.).
- Density: The number of times the word(s) appears relative to the size of the document (more is better) - considering also the field in which those words appear (abstract vs. full text, vs. title, etc.).
- Frequency: The number of times the word(s) appears in the database.
- Currency: When all factors are equal, the more recent articles rank higher.
- Document Type: In relation to the search terms, document types may be relegated to lower relevance. For example, in periodical databases, when the word “book” or “review” is not searched, there is a “bias” against book reviews, so these don’t dominate results.
- Length: Articles of a more substantial length have a heavier weighting (e.g., when all things are equal, a ¼ page article is considered less valuable than a 4 page article).

Abstract: Jules Simon (1814-96) was a key contributor to Pierre de Coubertin's efforts to raise awareness of the importance of physical education and to reestablish the Olympic Games. A well-known and respected figure in France, Simon's presence leant a cachet to Coubertin's plan. His work with the Olympic project also linked to the growing peace movement in France.

EBSCO Search Box

EBSCO's Search Box Builder tool is a new way in which libraries can incorporate persistent links to EBSCO

<http://supportforms.epnet.com/eit/searchboxbuilder/>

The Search Box uses a dynamically created persistent link to a search, filling in the search terms with those entered by the user.
